

Wine Spectator

JANUARY 26, 2010

2008 FUMÉ BLANC - Sonoma County

California Sauvignon Blanc has a lot going for it. In the Golden State, it makes for a refreshing and aromatic varietal in a wide range of styles, it's value-priced, it succeeds in many different regions, and it has benefited from a recent string of good vintages.

“Fresh, with a pleasantly herbal, peppery edge. Bright lemon-lime citrus flavors and crisp pineapple notes come together in a light-bodied, refreshingly juicy package. Drink now.”

- 86 points

Dry Creek
V I N E Y A R D